

New ALICE2 screensaver celebrates the Spring Equinox in South America

Written by María José López Pourailly

In September 22 at 21:18 GMT, the Southern Hemisphere will whiteness the Spring Equinox, while the North part of the world will be saluting the arrival of Autumn. ALICE2 celebrates this particular occasion with a new screensaver publication available in GIF and JPG in six different sizes.

The material is part of the disseminating work of the project and can be downloaded from the section 'Visibility'.
